Carmouche Visit to Farmers' Market Underscores Commitment to Agriculture

SHREVEPORT, La – The Downtown Shreveport Farmers' Market will close for the season on Saturday and 4th District Congressional candidate Paul Carmouche will be on hand to greet farmers and shoppers as the September 6 Primary election nears.

Carmouche's visit will underscore his commitment to west Louisiana farms and to food safety as National Food Safety Education Month begins in September.

"Agriculture is vital to west Louisiana's economy, and the hard work that farmers do cannot be ignored," Carmouche said. "Every Louisianan who eats should feel confident in knowing that our local growers provide a safe and wholesome product."

Added Carmouche: "In Congress, I will be a voice for Louisiana agriculture, and as this campaign heats up, I look forward to visiting farms and to finding ways to get our locally grown food onto more 4th district forks."
